INSTRUCTIONS FOR PLANTING PEONIES

Peonies should be planted in good, average garden soil. For permanent planting, prepare the ground by lifting out the top soil—the depth of a spade—and mixing into the lower soil plenty of well rotted manure, being careful not to allow this to touch the peony roots. Replace top soil and plant peonies three to four feet apart, covering the eyes with about two inches of fine dirt, not more. Deeper planting will keep them from blooming and make weak, slow growing plants.

If manure is not available, loosen dirt as described above and place about a handful of bonemeal or wood ashes around each plant. After the ground freezes cover with two or three inches of leaves, straw, or other litter to protect against spring freezing and thawing. Remove about April first. This is necessary only the first year.

Occasional cultivating from May to September will produce extra growth in the roots and give profuse bloom the following season.

Peonies should have plenty of sunshine and should not be too near old trees or shrubbery.

Never plant a peony where one has been planted before unless all the soil has been removed and replaced with soil that has never grow peonies, otherwise the plants will remain small and fail to bloom.

Before the blooming season, if the soil is dry, several liberal waterings at the base of the stems will increase the size of the blooms. For large show blooms pinch off the small side buds as soon as large enough to see, this throws all the strength in the one flower and greatly increases its size.

TIME TO PLANT PEONIES

September or any time before frost. We deliver roots during September and October. These are the advisable months to plant.
